

Join the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Youth Council, the youth advisory council for the City of Charlotte, Mecklenburg County, and Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools.

- Who? Open to all high school age youth – great for leaders/emerging leaders, teen journalists & all others interested in leadership, news, policy issues, and making a difference in our city.
- What? The council, a program of Charlotte nonprofit GenerationNation, helps teens take an active role in learning how to solve challenges impacting Charlotte and Mecklenburg County.
- ★ Advise policy- and decision-makers on issues impacting youth and children
 - ★ Learn about government, the key issues, and how our community works
 - ★ Build knowledge and skills for leadership, college, career and civic life
 - ★ Highlight civic issues of importance to youth
 - ★ Meet CMS, city, and county officials and community leaders
 - ★ Become a part of a communitywide network of emerging leaders – Charlotte-Mecklenburg’s next generation of leaders
- When? Meets twice a month, usually (but not always) on Tuesday evenings at 6:00-8:00PM
- Where? Most meetings are at the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Government Center in downtown Charlotte. When you sign up, you will receive regular meeting info, directions, etc. for each activity. Free CATS/LYNX passes available to assist students with transportation.
- How do I sign up?
